Initiative for Responsible
Mining Assurance

Becoming an IRMA Member

We welcome your interest in becoming a member of the Initiative for Responsible Mining Assurance (IRMA).

IRMA is the answer to a question posed at its founding in 2006: What does it mean to mine responsibly and how can we best assess operations at a mine site?

Over the course of a decade, IRMA did the heavy lifting to respond to this query, bringing together a diverse group of stakeholders to craft the world's first shared definition of responsible mining—the IRMA Standard for Responsible Mining. This Standard is now the world's most comprehensive and rigorous definition of responsible practices in mining. While the Standard describes best practice, IRMA welcomes mines at any level in their journey toward environmental and social responsibility to be measured against this Standard.

IRMA's system pairs the Standard for Responsible Mining with an independent verification program, measuring a mine's performance against the Standard in a manner accountable and credible to diverse stakeholders.

As a member, you will help shape the future of the Standard and the verification system, and join others in advancing IRMA's vision: a world where the mining industry respects the human rights and aspirations of affected communities, provides safe, healthy and supportive workplaces, minimizes harm to the environment, and leaves positive legacies.

Benefits of Membership:

1. Voting Rights to shape the future of IRMA¹
2. Participation in Member Meetings, including the Annual General Assembly to connect with fellow members
3. Members-Only Communications, such as advance notice of IRMA news and key insights on developments in responsible mining
4. Public Listings of your organization on IRMA's website and IRMA's Responsible Mining Map

Application Process and Timeline:

1. Complete this Application

Respond to all relevant fields (pages 3-6).

Review and sign that your organization agrees to IRMA's Principles of Engagement and Membership Principles (pages 7-8).

Send the completed application with any necessary attachments (see checklist on page 6) to info@responsiblemining.net.

2. Applications are Reviewed

Once the IRMA Secretariat has reviewed your application and finds it generally meets the membership criteria, a summary of your application will be shared with the IRMA Board of Directors for a two-week comment period.

In its review, the board shall assess whether there are any existent social, environmental or legal grievances, as IRMA reserves the right to explore any grievances concerning prospective members, their activities or operations. Applications will be held as pending until these grievances are resolved if considered by the board to be substantial.

The two-week comment period may result in membership approval or in an extended review process with follow-up questions from the board regarding your entity's demonstration of meeting the Membership Principles detailed in this application. IRMA is committed that such review and resolution will be free of any conflict of interest and will be documented for the applicant's review.

If the board feels there is reason not to approve membership or if board members require additional information, IRMA will notify you promptly.

Important Note: Mining companies may engage in a third-party assessment of a mine site without being IRMA members. We encourage this effort to further demonstrate commitment to IRMA's vision.

3. Payment of Membership Fees

Upon approval of your membership, IRMA will request payment of your annual fee, if applicable (see page 6).

4. Communications Support

Upon approval of your membership and payment of associated fees, as applicable, your organization will receive the IRMA member logo and examples of approved messages to communicate your engagement as detailed in the IRMA Claims and Communications Policy.

Please note that if you wish to announce your membership, all members must secure prior approval from the IRMA Secretariat for any public statements and press about your engagement and membership in IRMA. The review ensures such statements meet the IRMA Claims and Communications Policy.

IRMA can also provide you with quotes and supporting text to contextualize your membership.

IRMA's Principles of Engagement

We agree to the following principles as a basis for our participation in any IRMA initiatives or projects:

1. We are committed to and recognize the value of a multi-sector process and solutions with the participation of all sectors.
2. We acknowledge that we must develop strategies and systems that add value for all sectors, recognizing that different sectors define value differently.
3. We recognize that while we may not always agree, and that sometimes our disagreements may be aired in public, we see value in finding solutions where we are able to find agreement. We are therefore committed to dialogue despite these disagreements or differences of opinion.
4. We are committed to a process that seeks to improve and advance best practices and standards.
5. We will seek to learn from and build upon current examples of site-based good practice as well as broader initiatives that are underway.
6. We will seek to identify and recognize progress and improvements at existing operations, understanding that there could be, in some cases, inherent limits as to what can be achieved at these sites. We recognize that in certain cases sites with complex and challenging issues could implement improvements that could lead to certification.
7. We recognize that in certain cases, whether or not there is governmental approval, due to potential impacts or other values or benefits, no mining could be the best option. We seek to advance methodologies that allow such decisions to be made within a sustainable development context. We also recognize that we must pursue solutions that avoid simply leaving the mining of such sites to less responsible operators.
8. We will ground our standard setting and verification process in sound science with regard to all stages of mine development through closure, considering identified risks, while recognizing that scientific uncertainty is not a reason for inaction, and respecting traditional knowledge, custom and values.
9. We agree that efficiency is essential. We seek to develop and advance criteria, targets, benchmarks and processes that integrate, whenever possible, existing tools, processes and resources, such as current reporting or auditing. We seek to build on existing knowledge and systems where applicable.
10. We recognize that it is essential to develop a system that enables mutually acceptable, credible, independent, third-party verification of compliance with standards, thresholds or performance targets. Accordingly, we seek to create a system that offers public recognition for such compliance and a mechanism to ensure that these commitments are being met in practice on an ongoing basis.
